DAVIS STANDS BY BRYAN ON MOBILIZATION QUESTION

DENIES A RUMOR THAT HE MIGHT DISAGREE WITH NEBRASKAN

NEW YORK, July 31.—John W. Davis, speaking as the standard bearer of the democratic party, gave full support to Governor Charles Bryan's stand on "Mobilization Day," issuing a formal statement to correct a printed intimation that he is in disagreement with the stand of his running mate on the question of September mobilizatoin, Mr. Davis said: "On the contrary I think the view expressed by the governor of Nebraska is entirely sound."

By PERCY B. SCOTT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD BAR HARBOR EXPRESS ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, July 31.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, probably will hold himself aloff from the argument over "mobilization day," precipitated by his running mate, Governor Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska.

More or less isolated fro ten days in his Dark Harbor retreat, Davis had his first good chance to thoroughly digest Eastern newspapers at his breakfast today while swinging down through the State, headed for New York City.

Asked what he thought about Bryan's refusal to do no more on "mobilization day" than call out the Nebraska National Guard, Davis replied:

"I'm not sufficiently well informed on the situation to say anything about it."

Friends of the candidate intimated that Davis certainly would not let this issue—whether the army and navy reserves as well as the industrial resources of the country should be put through a short drill on "mobilization day," embroil him in the discussions now going on in many States and threatening to become a political problem for the Democratic ticket in several.

Game Postal Clerk Kills Mail Robber

EAST ORANGE, N. J., July 31.—Quick thinking and steady aim by a postoffice employe prevented a $50,000 mail robbery here today.

One of two bandits who attempted the robbery in the Lackawanna Railway station was shot and killed by Eugene Stack, postal employe, during a battle on the station platform.

Stack himself was struck twice by bullets, the second bandit escaped.

Five pouches containing about $50,000 in registered mail and money orders were on the platform as the gunmen approached. A sixth bag, filled with Federal Reserve currency from New York which ordinarily is with the other five, did not arrive today.

Stack approached the upper postoffice platform to await arrival of a mail train from New York at 4:58 a. m. He was reading a newspaper as the bandits came up from the other end of the station.

Without warning one of the men drew an automatic pistol and opened fire on Stack and a negro helper. The negro fled but Stack, although hit in the leg, drew his own revolver and fired six shots at bandits.

One of the men was shot through the chest and killed. The other fled down a stairway and escaped.

TAMPA, Fla., July 31.—F. M. Williams, whose picture hangs in the Hall of Fame, was expected to be arrested here today on an indictment charging complicity in the robbery of $24,000 from the Exchange National Bank.

Major of a machine gun battalion Williams received a half dozen decorations in the war and was named as one of the country's forty greatest heroes whose photographs are with the "immortals." He was former chief of police here and a prohibition enforcement officer following an early life in Wyoming where he was one of Buffalo Bill's riders.

Four others, including a former policewoman were indicted with Williams.

YANKEE FLIERS HELD UP BY BIG FOG

ABOARD U. S. S. RICHMOND, SCAPAFLOW, ORKNEY ISLAND, July 31.—Fog delayed resumption of the American world flight today.

At noon, it was announced that departure for Iceland was definitely postponed until tomorrow.

The airmen, who spent the night aboard the cruiser Richmond, flagship of the United States naval flotilla that is to convoy them across the Atlantic had left a call for 6 a. m. They turned over in their bunks for another snooze when told that the morning was foggy.

By 6:45 a. m. however, a bright sun burned away the morning mists that hung over Scapa and patches of gorgeous blue sky appeared here and there through the gray. Fog still clung to the tips of the hills of Hoy, across the waters of the Flow.

Squalling sea gulls circled low about the three world flight planes riding at their anchors alongside; the machines were ready for the long flight to Hornafjord, on the southeastern coast of Iceland. But although the weather here cleared until flying was possible and our men—and even the spick and span planes had an appearance of brisk readiness—were eager to be off, the wireless told of heavy fog in Iceland.

So the flyers settled down to a real American breakfast of bacon and eggs and breakfast food, the first time they have enjoyed the latter since they breakfasted aboard an American destroyer "somewhere in the Orient."

When finally the decision not to fly was reached the disappointed airmen arranged a visit to the sunken German warcraft Von Hindenburg and Seilditz in Scapa Flow and for a ten mile drive over the hills to visit the quaint and ancient town of Kirkwall, whose houses, streets and people remind one of an illustration to Hans Anderson's fairy tale.

The fliers will sleep once more aboard the Richmond, hopeful that daybreak will find clear weather ahead. Fogs and mists unfortunately are prevalent at this time of year.

Every now and then one of the airmen would get up from the break fast table and take a look out of a porthole to see how the weather was coming on.

Scapaflow, where the German fleet surrendered, lay calm in the morning sunlight, but the constantly chattering wireless told of heavy Ice land fogs since dawn.

The course of the airmen on this 500-mile "hop" lies due north from the Richmond over Signal Hill, which once sevred the British navy as Admiral Jellico's lookout station and on over Kirkwall and out to sea.

Once over the high seas only the trackless way of the old Vikings and discoverers marks their course. Down below three American war vessels will be on the watch, the Billingsley at the Fargoes, the Reid on the sea between the Fargoes and Iceland and the Raleigh at Hornafjord.

Our aviators are conscious of the difficulties that lie just ahead, but doubt if they will prove as severe as the Alaskan and Aleutian flights.

3 FORMER MEXIA MEN FINED IN FED. COURT

Will, Joe and Hunter Blake Among Those Fined for Defrauding by Mail.

HOUSTON, Texas, July 31.—Fines ranging from $500 to $10,000 Wednesday were imposed on six officers of the Mogul Producing and Refining Company, following a verdict of guilty to charges of using the mails to defraud.

Fines were imposed in Federa' District Court by Judge J. C. Hutcheson, who said the jury's recommendation of lienency was in line with his own opinions of the case.

The fines were: W. M. Blake, president of the Mogul Company, $10,000; W.H. Warren, $5,000; Joe Blake, $2,500; H. H. Truyens, $1,000; John Gibson, $1,000, and Hunter Blake, $500.

Special leniency in the case of Warren had been recommended, due to the fact that in his case there had been extenuating circumstances, but the court held that Warren's guilt was greater than it might have been because "he had more intelligence than the others." Furthermore, the court fined Warren $5,000 because "your father got you into this."

"He can now help you get out," the Judge said.

Raised Chickens, Vegetables.

Hunter Blake, who received the lowest fine, told the court that he had been raising chickens and vegetables for the past two years. "I feel that any man who quits selling stock and begins trying to earn a living out of the soil has gone a long way on his atonement," Judge Hutcheson said.

One of the defendants, Truyens was fined $1,000 for "temporary residence in a seventh heaven," to quote the Judge. Truyens, the court explained, was nominally an officer o the Mogul Company, but in reality was "a beekkeeper, putting down anything he was told to."

"Seventh Heaven" Fine.

"He drew more money for that than he had ever had before," the court continued. "In fact, he was in a seventh heaven, and I fine him $1 000 for temporary residence in seventh heaven."

The court emphazised the fact that he wanted to impart justice and that be wanted the convicted men to agree that he was being just. "Half the value of imparting justice is lost if those concerned do not understand that justice is being done," he said. He asked every man if he believed he had had a fair trial and expressed regret that conviction carried with it loss of citizenship. Loss of citizenship is an old law that ought to be abolished, he added, and offered to aid the men in getting their citizenship restored.

Persian Reply Is Satisfactory to U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—A reply from the Persian government, considered as satisfactory to the American note demanding redress for the murder of Vice Consul Robert Imbrie, was received and made public by the State Department. The reply agrees to all the demands made by the American government, which warned that a rupture of relations between the two countries might be the penalty for failure to accord satisfaction.

MEXIA NOW HAS CHANCE FOR SOME EXTENSIVE ADVERTISING ABROAD

After four years careful and persistent work, the Lone Star Trail, a national highway projected from St. Augustine, Fla., to Los Angeles, Cal., has now reached Waco, and the work of organizing, marking and logging this highway will proceed westward to California as soon as the matter of changing the National headquarters from Winnfield, La., to some new city has been settled.

Mexia has an opportunity to secure the national offices, together with the national presidency and treasury. The offices and officers will be permanent.

The reason for the change in national headquarters as given by National Treasurer, B. W. Bailey, Winnfield, La., is:

"Our community of only 3,000 people is too little to hope to realize the benefits that a larger and more favorable one would. Aside from this the moving of the domicile to Texas is only the carrying out of the original plan of the organization."

As indicated by Mr. Bailey, it has been the purpose of the national organization to bring the national offices to a more centrally located city in Texas. It is being now offered to Mexia. Treasurer Bailey in a letter to Secretary Jere Cason has this to say about Mexia:

"With your central location, your superb climate, your fertile soils, your generous rain fall, your rapidly growing population, your virile population, your highly progressive spirit, your rich oil fields, your magnificent cotton mills, and your altogether high powered leadership, makes of your city an ideal location for the domicile of the greatest highway organization of the greatest highway in the country."

As an advertising medium, the location of national headquarters of this great highway, cannot even be estimated. Every word, oral or printed will mention the national domicile. The tens of thousands of pieces of printed matter in the form of log books, guides, maps, etc., not to mention hundreds of columns of newspaper publicity, which cannot be bought at space rates, will all bring the city of the national offices into favorable notice.

The Lone Star Trail is the best organized and the best marked highway in the South. It is not a paper road. We have results to show for our efforts. Within four years we have secured the expenditure of more than $10,000,000 on the Lone Star Trail east of Waco.

With the building of the link between Teague and Palestine, the Texas division east of Waco will be hard surfaced. Every foot of this highway from the Sabine river to the Alabama line is provided for for immediate construction where it is not already finished. More than 75 per cent is already hard surfaced.

It will take only a little effort on the part of our citizens to secure the national offices permanently for Mexia.

Legal Authorities Predict Youthful Slayers Escape Noose

By EDWARD C. DERR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CRIMINAL COURTROOM, Chicago, July 31.—Legal authorities today forecast the escape of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb from the noose for the slaying of Robert Franks. This forecast was based on the tentative ruling of Chief Justice John R. Caverly, which favors the defense contention that its medical testimony is admissable.

Justice Caverly ruled with the defense when the State objected to the introduction of medical testimony, to show "mitigating evidence." But State's Attorney Crowe determined to protect his "perfect hanging case," insisted on showing the court rulings against admission of the medical testimony and for several hours yesterday his assistants poured out a veritable shower of precedents.

The State today still had scores of rulings to present and today's session may be devoted entirely to arguments. Justice Caverly is growing impatient and there is possibility he will put a stop to the State and order the defense to go ahead with its medical testimony.

The defense took much courage from the statement of Justice Caverly that a few months ago he had a somewhat similar case and santenced the slayer to life in prison.

The case was that of Sam Rosen. Rosen killed his wife.

"Court could and did appoint an alienist to examine him and when the court was told that the man was not insane, and was responsible for his acts, I permitted the plea of guilty to stand and sentenced him to life imprisonment," Justice Caverly pointed out.

Rosen had pleaded guilty and begged for hanging. Justice Caverly appointed an alienist to examine him. The report showed Rosen technically sane, but in a bad physical condition. The court gave him life in prison.

"We admit the boys committed murder. We admit they are legally sane. But we contend that the court should know the state of mind of the defendants in order to give them a fair sentence."

This is the statement of attorneys for the defense in reply to each fresh attack by the State.

"No evidence tending to show the boys are insane can be introduced without throwing the question into the hands of a jury," State's Attorney Crowe holds. "If the boys are insane or partially insane, they can not plead guilty."

The court's reply is that he will not listen to any evidence tending to show insanity, but only so much testimony that deals with a diseased functioning of the mind.

Meanwhile, as this legal battle is being waged, Dr. William A. White, of Washington, D. C., defense witness, sits quietly in the witness chair. If the court holds to its original ruling, which favors the defense, Dr. White can testify—if it changes its ruling, he will be barred from the stand.

SAYS RHEUMATISM IS THING OF THE PAST

With her rheumatism a thing of the past and her suffering from indigestion and nervousness ended, Mrs. J. E. Hermann of 111 S. Hackberry St., San Antonio, in a grateful statement gives full credit to Karnak for her remarkable recovery.

"For years rheumatic pains thru my back, arms and shoulders caused me endless suffering," says Mrs. Hermann. "I also suffered from indigestion, was biliousness, and extreme nervousness, and I was so weak and rundown I was forced to see my housework go undone.

"But Karnak helped me from the start, and I now eat with relish without any trouble afterwards. The Rheumatic pains are a thing of the past, my sleep is now refreshing, and I have so much new strength my housework is a pleasure. I just feel the good of Karnak to my finger tips, and can't praise this new medicine enough."

Karnak is sold in Mexia by the Mexia Drug Company.—(Adv.)

JOHNSON WAKEFIELD STATES HOW HE STANDS ON ISSUES IN RACE FOR COUNTY JUDGE

To the Democratic Voters of Limestone County:

I wish to thank every man and woman who cast a vote for me Saturday or who assisted me in any way on that occasion. I solicit your continued good will and support and urge that you attend the polls on August 23rd, and again honor me with your vote. To those who did not vote for me in the first primary, I respectfully ask your most serious consideration of my candidacy, the things that I stand for and my record in public and in private life. Your vote will be appreciated and the office to which I aspire, if I should receive a majority of your votes, will be held as a sacred trust.

To acquaint one and all with the things that I stand for and the platform that I stand on, I beg to address you, out of my heart, as follows:

I believe in the strict enforcement of all laws, through the duly constituted authorities, standing without fear upon the surest foundation document ever written by mortal man, the Constitution of the United States, the Bill of Rights and all of the amendments, including the eighteenth pertaining to prohibition. Our homeland and our homes must be protected in our Temples of Justice by the application of the remedies handed down to us by the fathers. I am, therefore, opposed to any organization that purposes to take the enforcement of law into its own hands.

I believe in the principle of a fair and just rendition of all property for taxes, and as chairman of the Commissioners Court, when it serves as an Equalization Board, I will insist that each and every one who has any complaint of an unfair rendition be given a fair and just hearing.

I am in favor of good roads, especially the lateral or country roads that connect with our highway system. These lateral roads should and will receive whatever attention they need, under my administration, and at no time will they be neglected.

I believe in a business administration of county affairs. In the application of wise business policies, I will use every effort to reduce Limestone county taxes and I believe that this can be done. Inasmuch as the property valuation in this county has increased from approximately $16,000,000 in 1920 to $50,000,000 in 1923, the county tax rate should be reduced. Yet regardless of this increase in property valuation, the county tax rate has been increased from 48 cents on the $100 valuation in 1920 to 85 cents on the $100 valuation in 1923.

I am opposed to the issuance of warrants for the purpose of building or erecting any structure without the people having a hearing in the matter. The county, in my opinion, after a most serious consideration of the facts, should be placed on a cash basis. In 1920 the taxes collectible amounted to about $76,000 while in 1923 the taxes collectible amounted to more than $400,000. The total bonded and warranted indebtedness of Limestone County on July 14, 1924, was $586,500.00.

I believe in an economical administration of Limestone county affairs. The county Judge is the legal advisor of the Commissioners' Court, and, as such, it becomes his duty to advise that court when it is necessary or wise to employ attorneys other than the County or District Attorney. The Commissioners' court in the past three years has paid thousands of dollars to attorneys, outside of these offices, for legal services. This will be saved to the tax payers, should I be your county Judge, for, if elected, the County and District Attorneys will be required to attend to all legal matters in which Limestone County is interested, except it be absolutely necessary to employ outside counsel to assist the County and District Attorney in the performance of such duties.

I believe that the people of the county should be informed of the workings of the Commissioners' Court. Theirs is a public service, of interest to all the public. The minutes of their meetings are filed in the County Clerk's office but few citizens ever get to see these minutes. There are, consequently, many orders and decisions reached which the public generally does not have easy access to. I will, therefore, also encourage the shedding of the light of publicity on all proceedings by having copies of the minutes of every meeting sent to the press of the county.

If you believe in me and endorse my stand on the issues mentioned, go to the polls August 23, and vote for me and then we will all work together for the next two years for the development of our great county and at least possible cost to the toiling masses of all classes who pay the expenses of administrating affairs in Limestone county.

AS DEALERS IN FOOD PRODUCTS FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION, WE RECOGNIZE THE IMPORTANCE OF HANDLING SUCH PRODUCTS UNDER THE STRICTEST SANITARY REGULATIONS.

This is particularly true of meat, which is a highly perishable product, most of which is handled in bulk form.

But sanitary surroundings alone are not sufficient in the handling of meat. Because of its perishability, it is of the utmost importance that the meat be kept under constant refrigeration. Such refrigeration must be of a steady degree of temperature in the cooling boxes.

TO SOLVE THIS PROBLEM WE HAVE

INSTALLED MODERN MECHANICAL REFRIGERATING SYSTEM SIMILAR TO THOSE USED BY LEADING MEAT MARKETS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY AND SIMILAR IN PRINCIPAL TO THE METHODS USED BY ALL OF THE MODERN MEAT PACKING CONCERNS.

By this system low temperatures are provided by circulation of Ammonia through pipes placed in the cooling chamber. Nothing is exposed to the product in the cooler but the frost of the pipes. This results in a much dryer and sweeter atmosphere than is possible with the old-fashioned ice-box, with its overhead ice chamber.

As a further evidence of our desire to supply our customers with the best possible service, we call your attention to the fact that we handle meats that have been prepared in establishments subject to the rigid inspection service of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. Trained veterinarians of the Bureau of Animal Industry inspect each animal before and after slaughter. Consumers who purchase meat in shops that handle federally inspected meat are sure of receiving meat that is clean and wholesome.

Seeing is believing. We cordially invite you to inspect our establishment. Look over the refrigerating plant, the coolers, the meats handled, and judge for yourself. You will find the investigation interesting and the time well spent.

SCENIC REGIONS RIGHT HERE IN TEXAS

Why go to Colorado to view the beauties of nature and to enjoy high altitude and bracing breezes? This is a question that Mr. and Mrs. David Murphy are asking, since their recent visit to Ft. Stockton, Alpine, Sanderson and other points "down by the Rio Grande."

They were not here to listen to the address delivered by Jamie Heron, Business Man Poet and Texas enthusiast, as given last Friday night to a large crowd in Mexia. But had they heard him telling about the glories at our own doorstep, claimed by our state and awaiting a fuller patronage and a higher development by the folks right here in the Lone Star State, they would have cheered as enthusiastically as any of his auditors.

As The Houston Post recently said:

There is almost unanimous agreement that the States which are so widely advertised and which attract so many visitors each summer possess little in the way of natural attractions superior to what is to be seen in Texas. There are higher mountain, but few more majestic; there are deeper valleys, but few more beautiful and inviting.

The one great obstacle that has stood in the way of a larger appreciation of the scenic beauties of Southwest Texas was the lack of good roads. Tourists have found difficulty in negotiating the rocky, mountainous roads. But that is being removed. Good highways are being built into the heart of the mountains in Southwest Texas, and to the Rio Grande. These highways now in the building will be permanent, and will be scenic driveways rivalling anything to be found in the country.

Throughout that section the work is going forward and by next season it will be far progressed. An increasing traffic will be the result, and with the State parks which Governor Neff has been accepting open and inviting the public, America's new recreation center will have a larger place on the map.

A CRUCIAL YEAR.

Some of the Democrats now in Texas preparing to participate in the State Democratic convention should remember the necessity of not talking over the heads of the people and of not ignoring the vital homely issues.

The men and women of Texas who vote a straight democratic ticket are plain, unaffected men and women. They are tired of small talk and political platitudes, disguested with baseless pleas and hungry for the old fashioned statement of fact that marked the campaign of other days.

The party in the land of the Alamo where none should hesitate to cross the line of self sacrifice if and whenever duty calls should stand up and demand the most effective enforcement of all the laws of the land. The party should condemn the blind tiger and wine cellar along with the open saloon. It should not blunder twiflingly in public nor sin heinously in private. It should never be the toy of hyprocrisy.

Place none but the staunchest and purest prohibitionists on guard, in high places and in low.

This is a crucial year for the Democracy of Texas and Limestone County.

Al May Possibly Come To Texas

VICTORIA, Texas, July 31.—Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York has been formally invited to open the Victoria District Fair and Centennial Exposition on October 20. He replied indicating that there is at least a possibility of his coming, but that it is impossible for him to make definite plans so far in advance.

TEST NEAR HEARNE REACHES 2,200 FEET

No. 1 on the Wilkerson farm is now down 2,200 feet. There have been several good showings of oil and gas. The drilling contract calls for 3,500 feet, and oil in paying quantities is confidently expected short of that depth.

Another test for this section will be started in the next 30 days at a location between the Littleand Big Brazos rivers and as soon as abstracts have been completed upon tracts in the nohtrehn and eastern end of the county, two other tests will be started.

A number of prominent oil men from Wichita Falls, Corsicana, Mexia and other fields have recently been on the ground and seem greatly interested in the outcome of this test J. W. Hamilton of the Pure Oil Company and F. L. Lewis and L. L. Holden of the Dantzinger interests have been here.

Brazilian Government Faces Serious Crisis From the Revolution

NEW YORK, July 31—When news was flashed over the cables from Rio de Janeiro bureau of the United Press the night of July 5th, announcing a military revolt in the state of Sao Paulo, persons familiar with Brazilian history knew immediately that the federal government was in for serious difficulty.

The spirit of revolt had been brewing in the country for two years and it was typical of Latin-American love for the dramatic that the outbreak was staged to the minute on the anniversary of the bloody rebellion in Rio de Janerio in July, 1922.

To understand the significance of the movement several points must be firmly fixed in mind.

All the South American republics have suffered since their beginnings from military domination of politics and in only three countries have advances been made toward a liberalization of politics through divorce of cliques of generals from the government.

In the Argentine this separation is almost complete, and such seemed also the case in Brazil until the disastrous campaign started against the military by President Epicacio Pessoa, who preceded the present incumbent in the Palace of the Eagles in Rio de Janeiro.

Causes of Outbreak

1—Military jealousy of civilian political rule.

2—Popular dissatisfaction in the wealthy state of Sao Paulo at what the Paulistas consider the extravagance of the federal regime.

3.—Dissatisfaction in the Sao Paulo state army at what the Paulista soldiers considered the arrogance of the French military mission of instruction contracted for by the state governor, Dr. Carlos de Campos.

4—Plotting by the old separatist groups, who have contended for years that the progressive states of south and central Brazil are hopelessly handicapped in the struggle for advancement by the backward states of the equatorial north.

British Mission Arouse Ire.

Apparently it was a combination of these groups that brought about the revolt, centering it on the immediate crisis caused by an investigation of the finances of the republic by a British mission and discussion in the army of a proposal to renew the contract with the military mission.

The separatist political plotters found ready tools in the disgruntled soldiers who felt the honor of the army had been trampled on by the drastic action of Pessoa in 1922, when he ordered Marshal Hermes de Fonseca, president of the powerful military club and commander-in-chief of the army, to prison because of his intervention in a political dispute in the state of Pernambuco.

Southwest Texas Looks Prosperous

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 31.—"Present indications point to an Easy-Money condition in Southwest Texas, throughout the coming Fall and Winter," said Mr. Albert Steves President of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, in a statement today to a group of San Antonio's out standing business men.

"Reports from all sections indicate that the coming harvest will be one of the richest and most profitable that has been gathered in this State for many years, and with the high prices which are prevailing, there will be prosperity for every merchant who is fully prepared and equipped to take advantage of these conditions. The bumper crops and improved live-stock prices will bring large sums of ready cash into circulation, and dealers who are alert will stage such aggressive advertising and merchandising campaigns as will hold this money in Southwest Texas.

"The whole machinery of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce will be thrown into Trade Week in order that the merchants of Southwest Texas may be given an opportunity to take full advantage of the course offered by Dr. Paul W. Ivey, and Mr. Frank Stockdale, who will open the Business Clinic at the Gunter Hotel on August 4th," said Mr. Steves, "for I believe no greater contribution could be made to our territory than to bring these two men to San Antonio for the Merchants Clinic. Mr. Stevens pointed out the fact that "San Antonio is the great reservoir of the Southwest for raw products, manufactured goods and every utilitarian commodity and luxury requisite to the conduct of any business or enterprise, and that a merchant living in San Antonio's Trade Territory should take advantage of this fact and concentrate upon his nearest market. I am not even taking into consideration the very important item of low freight rates and quick deliveries, but I do call attention to the fact that the merchant is able, because of the nearest of the complete market to carry a small stock of merchandise keeping his capital available, to order his goods as he needs them, depending upon turn-over and volume of sales for his profit.

Local distributors and wholesalers always understand the needs of their customers living in the immediate vicinity and with whom they are acquainted in a way that those who live in cities several hundred miles away cannot. The local wholesaler is familiar with business conditions and can work with the retailer with the greatest profit and satisfaction" continued Mr. Steves. "If we could all learn the lesson of keeping our Dollars at home and building our territory from the turn-overs in marketable goods, the prosperity of Southwest Texas would be assured.

PRAIRIE HILL CHILD DIES IN WACO HOSPITAL

The body will be taken to Prairie Hill in Compton's motor hearse, and the funeral will take place there Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.—Waco Times-Herald.

Bringing Science Into the Bakeshop

THIS is not a war dance, but merely a peaceful agricultural party among natives of Nigeria, Africa, who are grinding Guinea corn with which they make a sort of bread.

We are wondering if the baby on the woman's back will grow up with a bread complex. At any rate he will not receive the nourishment which our American children get from the fine breads, which have been developed by research in this country to a high point of nutritive value. The laboratory has played an important part in this development. In the insert is shown a portion of the laboratories of the Ward Baking Company, pioneers in baking science. In these laboratories all of the ingredients used in making bread and cakes are tested for purity and quality. Over 20,000 samples a year are tested. Accurate control is kept on the purity and quality of flour, yeast, sugar, salt, yeast food, milk and shortening. Also butter, eggs, baking powder, cocoa and raisins.

One of the big advances in bread making developed by this company was research to determine what was best for feeding the yeast in the dough. It was found that the proper mineral nutriment helped the yeast to grow while raising the dough. By supplying the necessary mineral salts a healthy fermentation resulted.

R. R. Commission To Oppose Raising Grain Freight Rates

AUSTIN, Texas, July 31.—Texas will not acquiesce in the raising of state freight rates on grain to Texas ports to overcome alleged discrimination against shippers of Oklahoma and other states, according to the state railroad commission. The commission has ordered O. D. Rudnall, chief rate clerk, to go to Washington this week to represent the commission before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

There is approximately 12 cents difference in the rates from Amarillo territory and the Oklahoma territory to Texas ports. Texas will suggest the lowering of the interstate rates rather than increasing the Texas rates, it was declared.

$125,000 For The Epinard Races

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 31.—Epinard, Pierre Wertheimer's good French colt, came over the seas to meett the fleetest horses on the American turf, and it was a bit of a surprise to find more than 100 thoroughbreds named for the three match races against the visitor.

Of course, 90 per cent of these American animals will be scratched before the time for the race rolls around, but it is interesting tonote how many horsemen felt it worth while posting $250 for each of their prospective contenders.

Many of the horses named would stand no chance against Epinard, and were put in by their owners just for the advertising value of the thing In after years, they will be saying of some scrawny foal:

"Why, his father was named to meet Epinard, the great French champion of 1921!"

Harry F Sinclair, through Sam Hildreth, his trainer, nominated eight different horses for the three events —17 entries in all—at a total cost to the Rancocas Stables of $1,250. H P Whitney named 11, August Belmont 7, Gif Cochran 6

There are to be three races; first, over six furlongs, at Belmont Park, Sept. 1. The second will be at a mile, at Aqueduct, Spt. 27; the third, a mile and a quarter at Latonia, Oct. 11 Entries for the Latonia race are not alike

The total value of the three races will exceed $125,000

The nominations afford horsemen with an interesting perspective on the relative value, at different distances placed by the country' leading trainers upon their chetpes

The following horses have been named for all three races Epinard, Grey Lag, Mad Hatter, Zev, Revenue, Ordinance, Ladkin, Whistalong, Wise Counsellor, Klondyke My Play, Little Chief, Wilderness and Snob II

Apparently all these are considered good at the three distance

In addition for the six-furlong event, the racing association received the following nominations up to July 1, when the books were supposed to close Brandale, Outline, Go hawk, Sun Flag, Supreme and Span, Lucky Play, Worthmore, Leonardo, Appreciation, Baffling, Sun Pal, Miss Star and Ralto

With exception of Go hawk Spic and Span, Lucky Play, Worthmore, Baffling and Miss Star, the nominations were the same for the Aqueduct mile and included in addition Honor, Starwis, Princess Doreen, Rockminster, My Own Polo Ground, Transmute and Gonfalon

While entries to not complete for the mile and a quarter race at Latonia the following have been named in addition to the aforementioned those Enchantment Barbara Bush Tuscolet Mumtaz Beadle Audacious and Thoughtless

When the final entries are closed on Saturday it may be found from six to ten horses running in each race.

It certainly would be a most unusual thing to have to call off the race with a field of only two starters, who for all practical purposes have a match race, and to have the public

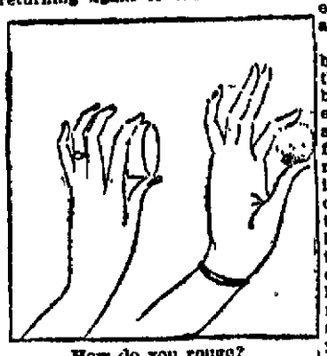
How To Rouge

DEAD-white cheeks and summertime don't go together very well, and so the few for whom the white-cheeked, carmine-lipped type was becoming are returning again to the rouge box.



How do you rouge?

In New York and Paris this season the orange tones in rouges,—steadily gaining in favor over the old purplish tone that looked like the dull flush of rising anger,—are used almost exclusively by smart women. On the Rue de la Paix in Paris or Fifth Avenue in New York one sees a great deal of the new Mandarino rouge, toned down in the daytime with rachel or a tannish powder like Peaches.

How do you rouge?

The most generally accepted way of rouging is to first put on your powder very thinly, then the rouge, and then to powder over the rouge, blending it harmoniously. Always use an upward movement, as in all working on the face, shading the color off at the edges so that it will not be in a blot.

If, for instance, your cheek-bones are high and your face long, the tendency of your rouge should be in more of a horizontal shape; extending across to your ears, instead of up and down. If your face is too square it may be narrowed in effect by rouge following fairly well the shape of your cheek-bone, extending high up at the sides, in fact, high up and back of the eyes is the most fortunate place, as this makes the eyes appear more brilliant and larger. Color in towards the nose narrows the face. However, the safest rule is to ascertain where your natural color is, and then intensify it a trifle with rouge.

Since the color tends to recede with age, an older woman's rouge should be lower on her face. Her make-up, too, must be lighter and more sparingly used, for if it is too dark it will make her eyes look faded, her hair duller.

The younger woman and girl may use rouge more generously—always providing that it is thoughtfully applied,—but it must be remembered that when red and other bright warm shades form a part of your costume the amount of rouge must be decreased.

In fairness to the French colt, which tenders must be worked out. Epinard is a gentle animal, easily handled by trainer, with a willing disposition, and is a good starter. The colt's handlers in this country have shown none of the disposition to coodle him, such as was displayed in the case of Papyrus at Belmont last year, where conceivable precaution, and some that savored of theatricals, were taken to safeguard the Derby winner's comfort and feelings.

ANOTHER MAN WHO CAME "BACK HOME AND BROKE"

Robert W. Frazer has "walked home" oftener than any other actor.

Heading the cast of Palo Negri's latest starring picture, "Men," which Dimitri Buchowetki produced for Paramount, the popular young lead remembers the days when he played in stock.

"My efforts to succeed as an actor seemed doomed to fail," says Frazer. "For four years I tried to establish myself behind the footlights through the aid of traveling stock companies. In that time I was engaged dozens of times. Every company went broke, leaving me stranded and forced to walk back to my home where I was glad to resume my job in a grocery store. Once I lived for four days on a ten cent can of beans."

The picture opens a 5 days' run at the National today.

PUT ON THE BRAKES

PEARSALL, Texas, July 31.—While playing in a car in front of the Woodward home, Jane Brown, 5, stepped on the starter and the car shot across the lawn at full speed, crashing into a large tree. Jane escaped uninjured, but Katherine Woodward, also 5, who was the "passenger," sustained a severe cut on the head and a sprained ankle.

Tucker And Umps Taken To Task By Mexia Gusher Fan

Jinx Tucker has many friends throughout the T. A. circuit because of the great sport section to the Waco News-Tribune which he is editor, but many of these friends are now in disagreement with him over arguments recently coming to the front.

One fan in Mexia writes in the following vein:

"Injustice has been done us on the part of Jinx Tucker. The ball game in which our own Jeffries pitched was a great performance and should have been won by us by all means. But the trouble that we have had in our ball games is and was in the umpiring by umpires that do duty here. We have been handed deals that are out of the question. Stone did not call the game as he saw it, but called it as he wanted to. Stone started at the very beginning to beat us and he finally did.

It was not at all necessary for Jinx Tucker to run down our manager, Mr. Fowlkes, as he did what any other good man would have done in having words with Stinnie Strickland. Again, I wish to say that the Waco club managed by Tom Carson did not beat Jeffries, but Umpire Stone did, and we all think it is time to do something as far as umpiring is concerned, as we cannot beat an umpire like Stone."

The big vote cast for Dan Moody for attorney general of Texas in Saturday's election is a source of much gratification to quite a number of his close friends here. Many former students of the University of Texas knew him as a student in that institution from 1911 to 1914. Mr. and Mrs. John I. McElroy also knew him at Georgetown when they resided there.

Elections all over the State, involving county and district candidates, interested quite a number of Mexia folks who had relatives in the various races. They have been watching all newspapers, eager for news as to the outcome.

Prayer meeting services were held in all local churches Wednesday night. Despite the heat of the summer large crowds are gathering for these occasions each week.

CAPTAIN NOAH A DEMOCRAT AFTER MEETING J. W. DAVIS

By DAVID SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DARK HARBOR, Isleboro, Me., July 30.—Cautain Noah Mighill, veteran fisherman of Dark Harbor, was a dyed-in-the-Maine-woods Republican before meeting John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential candidate. Today the Captain is a dyed-in-the-Maine-woods Davis Democrat.

Captain Noah was the first native to shake hands with the nominee when he arrived from New York for a vacation at Seven Hundred Acres Island. One of Noah's ancertors, Shubael Williams, first settled on Isleboro in 1764.

"Me and Mr. Davis are much alike," said Captain Noah today. "We both smoke a pipe."

The captain stopped counting his years after he passed seventy-nine. He makes his living by fishing in the vicinity of Penobscot Bay and bemoans the fact that the coming of the Summer colony has turned the ancient profession into rum running. Captain Noah says the only way to make the country dry is to drain off the ocean. Noah doesn't run rum up the coast or down his throat. He declares liquor spoils his taste for chewing tobacco.

Captain Noah admits he knew a heap about politics. He has never left Knox County in his life, so has been able to retain his political perspective. "The only thing I'm afeared of," said the captain, "is I'll get elected a United States Senator. Then I'd lose my reputation, suer'n sea gulls have wings."

Captain Noah knew Theodore Roosevelt, the former President-when he spent his last summer vacation here, at Islesboro.

"Teddy was a real rough rider," confided the captain. "I took him out fishing one day when Penobscot Bay was so rough that a dozen islands was bobbin' up and down. You could not keep a fish sittin' down in the boat after haulin' them in. But Teddy just stood on his hind legs smoking a strong black cigar and yanking the fish in like so many voters."

Captain Noah says if he can take Mr. Davis fishin' he'll tell the world whether or not he's going to win the coming election. "You can't fool the fish," said Noah; "they're nonpartisan."

Noah assured me he was a sure-fire character detective. "I can tell a New Yorker by the place he carries his money. Now Mr. Davis ain't a New Yorker—he's got a sense of humor. I got a hunch he's runnin' for election 'cause it's good fun. Of course, he wants to win, but if he doesn't he won't get gooseflesh.

"I was surprised to learn Mr. Davis ain't got a Southern brawl, but speaks most like us Maine folks. He's got a fighting jaw, and that broad forehead of his'n shows he's got more brains than Maine's got rocks."

The captain sees two good omens in connection with the Davis vacation on Seven Hundred Acre Island. Isleboro, its next-door neighbor island, was originally named Long Island. Davis lives in Long Island, N. Y. Also, the Tarrantine Indians were the first inhabitants of Seven Hundred Acre Island. The tribe came over from the mainland whenever they wished to elect a new chieftain.

Noah is going to vote Democratic, but believes it will take a lucky break or a smartly directed campaign to put Davis over.

"Even if Mr. Davis is a 'yes' man, President Coolidge ain't a 'no' man. There's lots of things for Mr. Davis, but there ain't enough again' President Coolidge."

I told Captain Noah of the report up here that Davis was thinking of giving up smoking to aid his voice when he begins his stumping tour.

"Mr. Davis is making a mistake," he said. "His big chance is to try for the pipe-smoking vote, and, along with the powder-puff vote that goes to the 'best lookin' Presidential candidate in history, he's got a firsehman's chance."

PARIS STYLE HINTS

By ALICE LANGELIER
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, July 30.—Feathered fans are going to waft cool currents during the hot Summer, if appearances are not deceiving.

Of course the fashionable fan was never intended to make a breeze. That business was left for the good old palmleaf creation. A fan these days is flourished for ornamental purposes, for it makes an exquisite accessory to a Summer frock.

Daytime fans are more numerous and very decorative, although a bit more simple than the dress-up ones. The spangles variety, long forgotten, is again appearing, as well as the hand-painted fan of the style of the Louis, with dainty berger or court scenes reminiscent of a bay Summer at Versailles. There are some, too, with exquisite old engravings and some with black and white silhouettes.

Fine old lace fans are also in vogue, and the older the lace the better, for nothing is more valuable than old lace. Black Spanish lace, mounted on mother-of-pearl or amber sticks, is especially smart, with old ivory sticks, finely carved, also much in the foreground.

Feather fans are very popular, of course, with feathers running riot everywhere. They are purely decorative and very effective in the lovely bright shades. Ostrich feathers ones, soft and waving, make delightful adornment for the wearer. Peacock feathers, fragile and lacelike, offer mysterious shields which only half hide fair shoulders. Wily woman knows that her charms are increased twofold with such a fan; or with one in white peacock, with white mother-of-pearl sticks. There are many, too, in fascinating tones of blue, green and bronze.

RUSSIAN EXPLORER FINDS ANCIENT CHINESE TOMB

MOSCOW, July 30.—Remarkable archaeological discoveries have been made by Professor Koslov, noted Russian archaeologist, according to messages emanating from Urga, the capital of Mongolia.

Professor Koslov is reported to have found, about sixty miles from Urga, three ancient burial mounds, which upon investigation, were found to cover sarcophagi containing the bodies of several Chinese princes of high rank.

The mounds, it is reported, all lead into one huge wooden tomb, the walls of which were richly decorated with multi-colored embroidered silks covered with Chinese hieroglyphics. The sarcophagi were found in an inner chamber, and indications point to their having been deposited there several thousand years ago.

Further details of the discovery are being eagerly awaited by Moscow scientists, who attach to it the greatest scientific importance.

CHRONOLOGY OF THE FRANKS MURDER.

May 20.—Robert Franks, 13, disappeared while on the way home from school.

May 21.—Young Frank's nude body discovered stuffed into a muddy culvert on Chicago's South Side.

May 29.—Nathan F. Leopold and Richard Loeb arrested.

May 30.—Loeb and Leopold confessed to the kidnaping and ransom of Robert Franks.

June 2.—Loeb and Leopold arraigned before Justice Caverly in Criminal Court and pleaded not guilty to charges of murder. Bound over to Grand Jury. Bail denied.

June .—Indictments charging kidnaping for ransom and murder returned against Loeb and Leopold.

June 27.—Coroner's jury held the youth responsible for kidnaping and slaying Robert Franks.

Almost every man seems to think that he is warranted in doing unwarranted things.

The telephone company in San Francisco employes thirteen Chinese girl operators, all of whom are thoroughly conversant with the English language, as well as with several native Chinese dialects.

A woman just loves to marrel with a man who isn't quarrelsome.

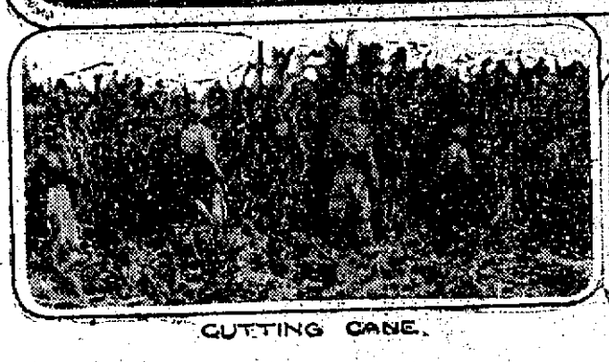
SYNTHETIC LUMBER TO SOLVE AUSTRALIA'S HOUSING PROBLEM



CUTTING CANE.

BAGASSE IN TONS AT CELOTEX FACTORY

B.G. DAHLBERG left PRESIDENT OF CELOTEX CO. and RT. HON. W. M. HUGHES FORMER PREMIER OF AUSTRALIA

CHICAGO—Synthetic lumber, an American discovery, is to solve Australia's housing problem, according to the Rt. Hon. W. M. Hughes, former premier of the Australian government who has been in the United States for four months to interest Yankee capital in industrial enterprises in the Antipodes.

While in Chicago, Mr. Hughes closed a deal with B. G. Dahlberg, president of the Celotex Company by which a $2,000,000 plant for the manufacture of lumber from bagasse, the waste fibre of sugar-cane, will be established at Bowen, in Queensland, a tropical province in north Australia where sugar-cane is grown in immense quantities.

"We grow no soft timber in Australia," said Mr. Hughes. "We have to import all our lumber for building purposes. Lumber prices are high due to heavy ocean transportation costs. Poor men are unable to build homes. Building is so expensive, rents are extremely high. The high cost of living has had a bad effect on immigration.

"Australia produces as much sugar-cane as Louisiana. There is enough crushed fibre now burned as useless to supply the country with practically all the building lumber it requires. Australia has only 6,000,000 people. It is a white man's country and owing to immigration restrictions, its population is growing slowly. Consequently its building requirements are comparatively small.

"I regard synthetic lumber as one of the greatest discoveries in the world's history. It will rank in time among the greatest benefits to mankind. It is primarily the poor man's lumber. It means homes for the people. It weighs only one-fourth as much as pine, which reduces shipping costs. It is as good an insulator as cork which insures cool homes in summer and warm homes in winter and materially cuts down fuel costs. It is a sound-deadener which is vital to health in this age of nerves and noises."

DAVIS STANDS BY BRYAN ON MOBILIZATION QUESTION

DENIES A RUMOR THAT HE MIGHT DISAGREE WITH NEBRASKAN

NEW YORK, July 31.—John W. Davis, speaking as the standard bearer of the democratic party, gave full support to Governor Charles Bryan's stand on "Mobilization Day," issuing a formal statement to correct a printed intimation that he is in disagreement with the stand of his running mate on the question of September mobilizatoin, Mr. Davis said: "On the contrary I think the view expressed by the governor of Nebraska is entirely sound."

By PERCY B. SCOTT
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

ABOARD BAR HARBOR EXPRESS ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, July 31.—John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee, probably will hold himself aloff from the argument over "mobilization day," precipitated by his running mate, Governor Charles W. Bryan, of Nebraska.

More or less isolated fro ten days in his Dark Harbor retreat, Davis had his first good chance to thoroughly digest Eastern newspapers at his breakfast today while swinging down through the State, headed for New York City.

Asked what he thought about Bryan's refusal to do no more on "mobilization day" than call out the Nebraska National Guard, Davis replied:

"I'm not sufficiently well informed on the situation to say anything about it."

Friends of the candidate intimated that Davis certainly would not let this issue—whether the army and navy reserves as well as the industrial resources of the country should be put through a short drill on "mobilization day," embroil him in the discussions now going on in many States and threatening to become a political problem for the Democratic ticket in several.

Game Postal Clerk Kills Mail Robber

EAST ORANGE, N. J., July 31.—Quick thinking and steady aim by a postoffice employe prevented a $50,000 mail robbery here today.

One of two bandits who attempted the robbery in the Lackawanna Railway station was shot and killed by Eugene Stack, postal employe, during a battle on the station platform.

Stack himself was struck twice by bullets, the second bandit escaped.

Five pouches containing about $50,000 in registered mail and money orders were on the platform as the gunmen approached. A sixth bag, filled with Federal Reserve currency from New York which ordinarily is with the other five, did not arrive today.

Stack approached the upper postoffice platform to await arrival of a mail train from New York at 4:58 a. m. He was reading a newspaper as the bandits came up from the other end of the station.

Without warning one of the men drew an automatic pistol and opened fire on Stack and a negro helper. The negro fled but Stack, although hit in the leg, drew his own revolver and fired six shots at bandits.

One of the men was shot through the chest and killed. The other fled down a stairway and escaped.

He was former chief of police here and a prohibition enforcement officer following an early life in Wyoming where he was one of Buffalo Bill's riders.

Four others, including a former policewoman were indicted with Williams.

YANKEE FLIERS HELD UP BY BIG FOG

ABOARD U. S. S. RICHMOND, SCAPAFLOW, ORKNEY ISLAND, July 31.—Fog delayed resumption of the American world flight today.

At noon, it was announced that departure for Iceland was definitely postponed until tomorrow.

The airmen, who spent the night aboard the cruiser Richmond, flagship of the United States naval flotilla that is to convoy them across the Atlantic had left a call for 6 a. m. They turned over in their bunks for another snooze when told that the morning was foggy.

By 6:45 a. m. however, a bright sun burned away the morning mists that hung over Scapa and patches of gorgeous blue sky appeared here and there through the gray. Fog still clung to the tips of the hills of Hoy, across the waters of the Flow.

Squalling sea gulls circled low about the three world flight planes riding at their anchors alongside; the machines were ready for the long flight to Hornafjord, on the southeastern coast of Iceland. But although the weather here cleared until flying was possible and our men—and even the spick and span planes had an appearance of brisk readiness—were eager to be off, the wireless told of heavy fog in Iceland.

So the flyers settled down to a real American breakfast of bacon and eggs and breakfast food, the first time they have enjoyed the latter since they breakfasted aboard an American destroyer "somewhere in the Orient."

When finally the decision not to fly was reached the disappointed airmen arranged a visit to the sunken German warcraft Von Hindenburg and Seildlitz in Scapa Flow and for a ten mile drive over the hills to visit the quaint and ancient town of Kirkwall, whose houses, streets and people remind one of an illustration to Hans Anderson's fairy tale.

The fliers will sleep once more aboard the Richmond, hopeful that daybreak will find clear weather ahead. Fogs and mists unfortunately are prevalent at this time of year.

Every now and then one of the airmen would get up from the break fast table and take a look out of a porthole to see how the weather was coming on.

Scapaflow, where the German fleet surrendered, lay calm in the morning sunlight, but the constantly chattering wireless told of heavy Ice land fogs since dawn.

The course of the airmen on this 500-mile "hop" lies due north from the Richmond over Signal Hill, which once sevred the British navy as Admiral Jellico's lookout station and on over Kirkwall and out to sea.

Once over the high seas only the trackless way of the old Vikings and discoverers marks their course. Down below three American war vessels will be on the watch, the Billingsley at the Fargoes, the Reid on the sea between the Fargoes and Iceland and the Raleigh at Hornafjord.

Our aviators are conscious of the difficulties that lie just ahead, but doubt if they will prove as severe as the Alaskan and Aleutian flights.

3 FORMER MEXIA MEN FINED IN FED. COURT

Will, Joe and Hunter Blake Among Those Fined for Defrauding by Mail.

HOUSTON, Texas, July 31.—Fines ranging from $500 to $10,000 Wednesday were imposed on six officers of the Mogul Producing and Refining Company, following a verdict of guilty to charges of using the mails to defraud.

Fines were imposed in Federa' District Court by Judge J. C. Hutcheson. who said the jury's recommendation of lienency was in line with his own opinions of the case.

The fines were: W. M. Blake, president of the Mogul Company, $10,000; W.H. Warren, $5,000; Joe Blake, $2,500; H. H. Truyens, $1,000; John Gibson, $1,000, and Hunter Blake, $500.

Special leniency in the case of Warren had been recommended, due to the fact that in his case there had been extenuating circumstances, but the court held that Warren's guilt was greater than it might have been because "he had more intelligence than the others." Furthermore, the court fined Warren $5,000 because "your father got you into this."

"He can now help you get out," the Judge said.

Raised Chickens, Vegetables.

Hunter Blake, who received the lowest fine, told the court that he had been raising chickens and vegetables for the past two years. "I feel that any man who quits selling stock and begins trying to earn a living out of the soil has gone a long way on his atonement," Judge Hutcheson said.

One of the defendants, Truyens was fined $1,000 for "temporary residence in a seventh heaven," to quote the Judge. Truyens, the court explained, was nominally an officer o the Mogul Company, but in reality was "a beekkeeper, putting down anything he was told to."

"Seventh Heaven" Fine.

"He drew more money for that than he had ever had before," the court continued. "In fact, he was in a seventh heaven, and I fine him $1 000 for temporary residence in seventh heaven."

The court emphazised the fact that he wanted to impart justice and that he wanted the convicted men to agree that he was being just. "Half the value of imparting justice is lost if those concerned do not understand that justice is being done," he said. He asked every man if he believed he had had a fair trial and expressed regret that conviction carried with it loss of citizenship. Loss of citizenship is an old law that ought to be abolished, he added, and offered to aid the men in getting their citizenship restored.

Persian Reply Is Satisfactory to U. S.

WASHINGTON, July 31.—A reply from the Persian government, considered as satisfactory to the American note demanding redress for the murder of Vice Consul Robert Imbrie, was received and made public by the State Department. The reply agrees to all the demands made by the American government, which warned that a rupture of relations between the two countries might be the penalty for failure to accord satisfaction.

DEFENSE HOLDS ACE IN CHICAGO TRIAL

CHICAGO, July 31.—At the end of two hours argument by the state in its efforts to exclude defense alienists from the stand, Chief Justice Caverly had not changed an earlier ruling and the advantage rested with hte defense in the Leopold-Loeb case. Further arguments are planned.

Mrs. Sterling D. Proctor of Teague and Mrs. W. R. Boyd, of New York City were visitors to Mexia Wednesday. Mrs. Proctor spent several weeks in New York City, throughout the Democratic Convention, who visited home folks at Fairfield during the reunion.

MEXIA NOW HAS CHANCE FOR SOME EXTENSIVE ADVERTISING ABROAD

After four years careful and persistent work, the Lone Star Trail, a national highway projected from St. Augustine, Fla., to Los Angeles, Cal., has now reached Waco, and the work of organizing, marking and logging this highway will proceed westward to California as soon as the matter of changing the National headquarters from Winnfield, La., to some other city has been settled.

Mexia has an opportunity to secure national offices, together with the national presidency and treasury. The offices and officers will be permanent.

The reason for the change in national headquarters as given by National Treasurer, B. W. Bailey, Winnfield, La., is:

"Our community of only 3,000 people is too little to hope to realize the benefits that a larger and more favorable one would. Aside from this the moving of the domicile to Texas is only the carrying out of the original plan of the organization."

As indicated by Mr. Bailey, it has been the purpose of the national organization to bring the national offices to a more centrally located city in Texas. It is being now offered to Mexia. Treasurer Bailey in a letter to Secretary Jere Cason has this to say about Mexia:

"With your central location, your superb climate, your fertile soils, your generous rain fall, your rapidly growing population, your virile population, your highly progressive spirit, your rich oil fields, your magnificent cotton mills, and your altogether high powered leadership, makes of your city an ideal location for the domicile of the greatest highway organization of the greatest highway in the country."

As an advertising medium, the location of national headquarters of this great highway, cannot even be estimated. Every word, oral or printed will mention the national domicile. The tens of thousands of pieces of printed matter in the form of log books, guides, maps, etc., not to mention hundreds of columns of newspaper publicity, which cannot be bought at space rates, will all bring the city of the national offices into favorable notice.

The Lone Star Trail is the best organized and the best marked highway in the South. It is not a paper road. We have results to show for our efforts. Within four years we have secured the expenditure of more than $10,000,000 on the Lone Star Trail east of Waco.

With the building of the link between Teague and Palestine, the Texas division east of Waco will be hard surfaced. Every foot of this highway from the Sabine river to the Alabama line is provided for for immediate construction where it is not already finished. More than 75 per cent is already hard surfaced.

It will take only a little effort on the part of our citizens to secure the national offices permanently for Mexia.

Legal Authorities Predict Youthful Slayers Escape Noose

By EDWARD C. DERR
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

CRIMINAL COURTROOM, Chicago, July 31.—Legal authorities today forecast the escape of Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb from the noose for the slaying of Robert Franks. This forecast was based on the tentative ruling of Chief Justice John R. Caverly, which favors the defense contention that its medical testimony is admissable.

Justice Caverly ruled with the defense when the State objected to the introduction of medical testimony, to show "mitigating evidence." But State's Attorney Crowe determined to protect his "perfect hanging case," insisted on showing the court rulings against admission of the medical testimony and for several hours yesterday his assistants poured out a veritable shower of precedents.

The State today still had scores of rulings to present and today's session may be devoted entirely to arguments. Justice Caverly is growing impatient and there is possibility he will put a stop to the State and order the defense to go ahead with its medical testimony.

The defense took much courage from the statement of Justice Caverly that a few months ago he had a somewhat similar case and santenced the slayer to life in prison.

The case was that of Sam Rosen. Rosen killed his wife.

"Court could and did appoint an alienist to examine him and when the court was told that the man was not insane, and was responsible for his acts, I permitted the plea of guilty to stand and sentenced him to life imprisonment," Justice Caverly pointed out.

Rosen had pleaded guilty and begged for hanging. Justice Caverly appointed an alienist to examine him. The report showed Rosen technically sane, but in a bad physical condition. The court gave him life in prison.

"We admit the boys committed murder. We admit they are legally sane. But we contend that the court should know the state of mind of the defendants in order to give them a fair sentence."

This is the statement of attorneys for the defense in reply to each fresh attack by the State.

"No evidence tending to show the boys are insane can be introduced without throwing the question into the hands of a jury," State's Attorney Crowe holds. "If the boys are insane or partially insane, they can not plead guilty."

The court's reply is that he will not listen to any evidence tending to show insanity, but only so much testimony that deals with a diseased functioning of the mind.

Meanwhile, as this legal battle is being waged, Dr. William A. White, of Washington, D. C., defense witness, sits quietly in the witness chair. If the court holds to its original ruling, which favors the defense, Dr. White can testify—if it changes its ruling, he will be barred from the stand.

THE WEATHER

East and West Texas—Partly cloudy, showers and cooler.

WATCHING THE SCOREBOARD

Yesterday's Hero—Willie Kamm. Five hits, the last of which drove in the winning run as the White Sox downed the Red Sox 7 to 6.

The Braves smacked the Reds in both ends of a double header, 3 to 0, and 6 to 3.

Cooper pitched well in the pinches and some heavy hitting by the Giants went to waste as Jonnard's support failed and the Pirates won 6 to 3.

Walter Johnson hit a home run in the second and started the Senators on a 7 to 4 win over Detroit, although the Veteran twirler was driven from the box in the third.

Burleigh Grimes, in top form, shut out the Cubs with five hits for his fourteenth victory for the Dodgers, 6 to 0.

Errors and a pinch hit in the ninth with the bases full, helped Cleveland beat Philadelphia, 5 to 4.

Bottomley, Cooney and Hornsby ripped off a triple play against the Phils and the Cards came from behind to win a heavy hitting game, 9 to 8.

FIGHTS AND FIGHTERS

PARIS.—Eugene Criqui, former world's featherweight champion, world war hero and one of the gamest boxers that ever entered the ring is reported to have been seriously injured in an automobile accident near Lignieres, France. Criqui recently retired.

CHICAGO—Joe Coffee has not been able as yet to pick an opponent for Tommy Gibbons for a proposed fight at Michigan City on Labor Day, but he expects to make a selection from Gene Tunney, Jack Renault and Harry Greb.

DUBLIN.—America's track and field team for the Tailteann games with intat even the Olympic, is arriving here, the first contingent being warmly welcomed by the city.

CHICAGO.—Lil Artha of the wide-golden smile is about to fight his way back to the heavyweight championship of the world—at least that's his story. Lil Artha—Jack Johnson—announced he would fight Tut Jackson, also an ebony fighter, in East Chicago on Aug. 15. The fgit is scheduled for 15 rounds, no decision. Johnson said he would start training right away. Although he is 46 years old, Jack does not carry such a heavy load around the waist and he is confident of being able to get down to fighting trim.

MUSKEGON, Mich.—Bud Clancy, Muskegon first baseman, ran the list of consecutive games in which he has hit safely to 39 yesterday when he singled in the tenth inning against Saginaw in the Mint League. Clancy belongs to the Chicago White Sox.

JOHNSON WAKEFIELD STATES HOW HE STANDS ON ISSUES IN RACE FOR COUNTY JUDGE

To the Democratic Voters of Limestone County:

I wish to thank every man and woman who cast a vote for me Saturday or who assisted me in any way on that occasion. I solicit your continued good will and support and urge that you attend the polls on August 23rd, and again honor me with your vote. To those who did not vote for me in the first primary, I respectfully ask your most serious consideration of my candidacy, the things that I stand for and my record in public and in private life. Your vote will be appreciated and the office to which I aspire, if I should receive a majority of your votes, will be held as a sacred trust.

To acquaint one and all with the things that I stand for and the platform that I stand on, I beg to address you, out of my heart, as follows:

I believe in the strict enforcement of all laws, through the duly constituted authorities, standing without fear upon the surest foundation document ever written by mortal man, the Constitution of the United States, the Bill of Rights and all of the amendments, including the eighteenth pertaining to prohibition. Our homeland and our homes must be protected in our Temples of Justice by the application of the remedies handed down to us by the fathers. I am, therefore, opposed to any organization that purposes to take the enforcement of law into its own hands.

I believe in the principle of a fair and just rendition of all property for taxes, and as chairman of the Commissioners Court, when it serves as an Equalization Board, I will insist that each and every one who has any complaint of an unfair rendition be given a fair and just hearing.

I am in favor of good roads, especially the lateral or country roads that connect with our highway system. These lateral roads should and will receive whatever attention they need, under my administration, and at no time will they be neglected.

I believe in a business administration of county affairs. In the application of wise business policies, I will use every effort to reduce Limestone county taxes and I believe that this can be done. Inasmuch as the property valuation in this county has increased from approximately $16,000,000 in 1920 to $50,000,000 in 1923, the county tax rate should be reduced. Yet regardless of this increase in property valuation, the county tax rate has been increased from 48 cents on the $100 valuation in 1920 to 85 cents on the $100 valuation in 1923.

I am opposed to the issuance of warrants for the purpose of building or erecting any structure without the people having a hearing in the matter. The county, in my opinion, after a most serious consideration of the facts, should be placed on a cash basis. In 1920 the taxes collectible amounted to about $76,000 while in 1923 the taxes collectible amounted to more than $400,000. The total bonded and warranted indebtedness of Limestone County on July 14, 1924, was $586,500.00.

I believe in an economical administration of Limestone county affairs. The county Judge is the legal advisor of the Commissioners' Court, and, as such, it becomes his duty to advise that court when it is necessary or wise to employ attorneys other than the County or District Attorney. The Commissioners' court in the past three years has paid thousands of dollars to attorneys, outside of these offices, for legal services. This will be saved to the tax payers, should I be your county Judge, for, if elected, the County and District Attorneys will be required to attend to all legal matters in which Limestone County is interested, except it be absolutely necessary to employ outside counsel to assist the County and District Attorney in the performance of such duties.

I believe that the people of the county should be informed of the workings of the Commissioners' Court. Theirs is a public service, of interest to all the public. The minutes of their meetings are filed in the County Clerk's office but few citizens ever get to see these minutes. There are, consequently, many orders and decisions reached which the public generally does not have easy access to. I will, therefore, also encourage the shedding of the light of publicity on all proceedings by having copies of the minutes of every meeting sent to the press of the county.

If you believe in me and endorse my stand on the issues mentioned, go to the polls August 23, and vote for me and then we will all work togethor for the next two years for the development of our great county and at least possible cost to the toiling masses of all classes who pay the expenses of administrating affairs in Limestone county.

JOHNSON WAKEFIELD.

SAYS RHEUMATISM IS THING OF THE PAST

With her rheumatism a thing of the past and her suffering from indigestion and nervousness ended, Mrs. J. E. Hermann of 114 S. Hackberry St., San Antonio, in a grateful statement gives full credit to Karnak for her remarkable recovery.

"For years rheumatic pains thru my back, arms and shoulders caused me endless suffering," says Mrs. Hermann. "I also suffered from indigestion, gas biliousness, and extreme nervousness, and I was so weak and rundown I was forced to see my housework go undone.

"But Karnak helped me from the start, and I now eat with relish without any trouble afterwards. The Rheumatic pains are a thing of the past, my sleep is now refreshing, and I have so much new strength my housework is a pleasure. I just feel the good of Karnak to my finger tips, and can't praise this new medicine enough."

Karnak is sold in Mexia by the Mexia Drug Company.—(Adv.)

AS DEALERS IN FOOD PRODUCTS FOR HUMAN CONSUMPTION, WE RECOGNIZE THE IMPORTANCE OF HANDLING SUCH PRODUCTS UNDER THE STRICTEST SANITARY REGULATIONS.

This is particularly true of meat, which is a highly perishable product, most of which is handled in bulk form.

But sanitary surroundings alone are not sufficient in the handling of meat. Because of its perishability, it is of the utmost importance that the meat be kept under constant refrigeration. Such refrigeration must be of a steady degree of temperature in the cooling boxes.

TO SOLVE THIS PROBLEM WE HAVE

INSTALLED MODERN MECHANICAL REFRIGERATING SYSTEM SIMILAR TO THOSE USED BY LEADING MEAT MARKETS THROUGHOUT THE COUNTRY AND SIMILAR IN PRINCIPAL TO THE METHODS USED BY ALL OF THE MODERN MEAT PACKING CONCERNS.

By this system low temperatures are provided by circulation of Ammonia through pipes placed in the cooling chamber. Nothing is exposed to the product in the cooler but the frost of the pipes. This results in a much dryer and sweeter atmosphere than is possible with the old-fashioned ice-box, with its overhead ice chamber.

As a further evidence of our desire to supply our customers with the best possible service, we call your attention to the fact that we handle meats that have been prepared in establishments subject to the rigid inspection service of the Bureau of Animal Industry of the United States Department of Agriculture. Trained veterinarians of the Bureau of Animal Industry inspect each animal before and after slaughter. Consumers who purchase meat in shops that handle federally inspected meat are sure of receiving meat that is clean and wholesome.

Seeing is believing. We cordially invite you to inspect our establishment. Look over the refrigerating plant, the coolers, the meats handled, and judge for yourself. You will find the investigation interesting and the time well spent.

"For Mexia, I WILL"

SCENIC REGIONS RIGHT HERE IN TEXAS

Why go to Colorado to view the beauties of nature and to enjoy high altitude and bracing breezes? This is a question that Mr. and Mrs. David Murphy are asking, since their recent visit to Ft. Stockton, Alpine, Sanderson and other points "down by the Rio Grande."

They were not here to listen to the address delivered by Jamie Heron, Business Man Poet and Texas enthusiast, as given last Friday night to a large crowd in Mexia. But had they heard him telling about the glories at our own doorstep, claimed by our state and awaiting a fuller patronage and a higher development by the folks right here in the Lone Star State, they would have cheered as enthusiastically as any of his auditors.

As The Houston Post recently said:

There is almost unanimous agreement that the States which are so widely advertised and which attract so many visitors each summer possess little in the way of natural attractions superior to what is to be seen in Texas. There are higher mountain, but few more majestic; there are deeper valleys, but few more beautiful and inviting.

The one great obstacle that has stood in the way of a larger appreciation of the scenic beauties of Southwest Texas was the lack of good roads. Tourists have found difficulty in negotiating the rocky, mountainous roads. But that is being removed. Good highways are being built into the heart of the mountains in Southwest Texas, and to the Rio Grande. These highways now in the building will be permanent, and will be scenic driveways rivalling anything to be found in the country.

Throughout that section the work is going forward and by next season it will be far progressed. An increasing traffic will be the result, and with the State parks which Governor Neff has been accepting open and inviting the public, America's new recreation center will have a larger place on the map.

A CRUCIAL YEAR.

Some of the Democrats now in Texas preparing to participate in the State Democratic convention should remember the necessity of not talking over the heads of the people and of not ignoring the vital homely issues.

The men and women of Texas who vote a straight democratic ticket are plain, unaffected men and women. They are tired of small talk and political platitudes, disguested with baseless pleas and hungry for the old fashioned statement of fact that marked the campaign of other days.

The party in the land of the Alamo where none should hesitate to cross the line of self sacrifice if and whenever duty calls should stand up and demand the most effective enforcement of all the laws of the land. The party should condemn the blind tiger and wine cellar along with the open saloon. It should not blunder triflingly in public nor sin heinously in private. It should never be the toy of hyprocrisy.

Place none but the staunchest and purest prohibitionists on guard, in high places and in low.

This is a crucial year for the Democracy of Texas and Limestone County.

Al May Possibly Come To Texas

VICTORIA, Texas, July 31.—Governor Alfred E. Smith of New York has been formally invited to open the Victoria District Fair and Centennial Exposition on October 29. He replied indicating that there is at least a possibility of his coming, but that it is impossble for him to make definite plans so far in advance.

TEST NEAR HEARNE REACHES 2,200 FEET

No. 1 on the Wilkerson farm is now down 2,200 feet. There have been several good showings of oil and gas. The drilling contract calls for 3,500 feet, and oil in paying quantities is confidently expected short of that depth.

Another test for this section will be started in the next 30 days at a location between the Littleand Big Brazos rivers and as soon as abstracts have been completed upon tracts in the nohtrehn and eastern end of the county, two other tests will be started.

A number of prominent oil men from Wichita Falls, Corsicana, Mexia and other fields have recently been on the ground and seem greatly interested in the outcome of this test J. W. Hamilton of the Pure Oil Company and F. L. Lewis and L. L. Holden of the Dantzinger interests have been here.

Brazilian Government Faces Serious Crisis From the Revolution

NEW YORK, July 31—When news was flashed over the cables from Rio de Janeiro bureau of the United Press the night of July 5th, announcing a military revolt in the state of Sao Paulo, persons familiar with Brazilian history knew immediately that the federal government was in for serious difficulty.

The spirit of revolt had been brewing in the country for two years and it was typical of Latin-American love for the dramatic that the outbreak was staged to the minute on the anniversary of the bloody rebellion in Rio de Janerio in July, 1922.

To understand the significance of the movement several points must be firmly fixed in mind.

All the South American republics have suffered since their beginnings from military domination of politics and in only three countries have advances been made toward a liberalization of politics through divorce of cliques of generals from the government.

In the Argentine this separation is almost complete, and such seemed also the case in Brazil until the disastrous campaign started against the military by President Epicacio Pessoa, who preceded the present incumbent in the Palace of the Eagles in Rio de Janeiro.

Causes of Outbreak

1—Military jealousy of civilian political rule.

2—Popular dissatisfaction in the wealthy state of Sao Paulo at what the Paulistas consider the extravagance of the federal regime.

3.—Dissatisfaction in the Sao Paulo state army at what the Paulista soldiers considered the arrogance of the French military mission of instruction contracted for by the state governor, Dr. Carlos de Campos.

4—Plotting by the old separatist groups, who have contended for years that the progressive states of south and central Brazil are hopelessly handicapped in the struggle for advancement by the backward states of the equatorial north.

British Mission Arouse Ire

Apparently it was a combination of these groups that brought about the revolt, centering it on the immediate crisis caused by an investigation of the finances of the republic by a British mission and discussion in the army of a proposal to renew the contract with the military mission.

The separatist political plotters found ready tools in the disgruntled soldiers who felt the honor of the army had been trampled on by the drastic action of Pessoa in 1922, when he ordered Marshal Hermes da Fonseca, president of the powerful military club and commander-in-chief of the army, to prison because of his intervention in a political dispute in the state of Pernambuco.

Southwest Texas Looks Prosperous

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 31.—"Present indications point to an Easy-Money condition in Southwest Texas, throughout the coming Fall and Winter," said Mr. Albert Steves President of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce, in a statement today to a group of San Antonio's out standing business men.

"Reports from all sections indicate that the coming harvest will be one of the richest and most profitable that has been gathered in this State for many years, and with the high prices which are prevailing, there will be prosperity for every merchant who is fully prepared and equipped to take advantage of these conditions. The bumper crops and improved live-stock prices will bring large sums of ready cash into circulation, and dealers who are alert will stage such aggressive advertising and merchandising campaigns as will hold this money in Southwest Texas.

"The whole machinery of the San Antonio Chamber of Commerce will be thrown into Trade Week in order that the merchants of Southwest Texas may be given an opportunity to take full advantage of the course offered by Dr. Paul W. Ivey, and Mr. Frank Stockdale, who will open the Business Clinic at the Gunter Hotel on August 4th," said Mr. Steves, "for I believe no greater contribution could be made to our territory than to bring these two men to San Antonio for the Merchants Clinic. Mr. Stevens pointed out the fact that "San Antonio is the great reservoir of the Southwest for raw products, manufactured goods and every utilitarian commodity and luxury requisite to the conduct of any business or enterprise, and that a merchant living in San Antonio's Trade Territory should take advantage of this fact and con centrate upon his nearest market. I am not even taking into consideration the very important item of low freight rates and quick deliveries, but I do call attention to the fact that the merchant is able, because of the nearest of the complete market to carry a small stock of merchandise keeping his capital available, to order his goods as he needs them, depending upon turn-over and volume of sales for his profit.

Local distributors and wholesalers always understand the needs of their customers living in the immediate vicinity and with whom they are acquainted in a way that those who live in cities several hundred miles away cannot. The local wholesaler is familiar with business conditions and can work with the retailer with the greatest profit and satisfaction" continued Mr. Steves. "If we could all learn the lesson of keeping our Dollars at home and building our territory from the turn-overs in mar ketable goods, the prosperity of Southwest Texas would be assured.

PRAIRIE HILL CHILD DIES IN WACO HOSPITAL

Bringing Science Into the Bakeshop

THIS is not a war dance, but merely a peaceful agricultural party among natives of Nigeria, Africa, who are grinding Guinea corn with which they make a sort of bread.

We are wondering if the baby on the woman's back will grow up with a bread complex. At any rate he will not receive the nourishment which our American children get from the fine breads, which have been developed by research in this country to a high point of nutritive value. The laboratory has played an important part in this development. In the insert is shown a portion of the laboratories of the Ward Baking Company, pioneers in baking science. In these laboratories all of the ingredients used in making bread and cakes are tested for purity and quality. Over 20,000 samples a year are tested. Accurate control is kept on the purity and quality of flour, yeast, sugar, salt, yeast food, milk and shortening. Also butter, eggs, baking powder, cocoa and raisins.

One of the big advances in bread making developed by this company was research to determine what was best for feeding the yeast in the dough. It was found that the proper mineral nutriment helped the yeast to grow while raising the dough. By supplying the necessary mineral salts a healthy fermentation resulted.

R. R. Commission To Oppose Raising Grain Freight Rates

AUSTIN, Texas, July 31.—Texas will not acquiesce in the raising of state freight rates on grain to Texas ports to overcome alleged discrimination against shippers of Oklahoma and other states, according to the state railroad commission. The commission has ordered O. D. Hudnall, chief rate clerk, to go to Washington this week to represent the commission before the Interstate Commerce Commission.

There is approximately 13 cents difference in the rates from Amarillo territory and the Oklahoma territory to Texas ports. Texas will suggest the lowering of the interstate rates rather than increasing the Texas rates, it was declared.

$125,000 For The Epinard Races

By FRANK GETTY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, July 31.—Epinard, Pierre Wertheimer's good French colt, came over the seas to meett the fleetest horses on the American turf, and it was a bit of a surprise to find more than 100 thoroughbreds named for the three match races against the visitor.

Of course, 90 per cent of these American animals will be scratched before the time for the race rolls around, but it is interesting tonote how many horsemen felt it worth while posting $250 for each of their prospective contenders.

Many of the horses named would stand no chance against Epinard, and were put in by their owners just for the advertising value of the thing. In after years, they will be saying of some scrawny foal:

"Why, his father was named to meet Epinard, the great French champion of 1924!"

Harry F. Sinclair, through Sam Hildreth, his trainer, nominated eight different horses for the three events —17 entries in all—at a total cost to the Rancocas Stables of $4,250. H. P. Whitney named 11, August Belmont 7, Gif Cochran 6.

There are to be three races; first, over six furlongs, at Belmont Park, Sept. 1. The second will be at a mile, at Aqueduct, Spt. 27; the third, a mile and a quarter at Latonia, Oct. 11. Entries for the Latonia race are not allin.

The total value of the three races will exceed $125,000.

The nominations afford horsemen with an interesting perspective on the relative value, at different distances placed by the country's leading trainers upon their charges.

The following horses have been named for all three races: Epinard, Grey Lag, Mad Hatter, Zev, Revenue, Ordinance, Ladkin, Whiskalong, Wise Counsellor, Klondyke, My Play, Little Chief, Wilderness and Snob II.

Apparently all these are considered good at the three distances.

In addition, for the six-furlong event, the racing association received the following nominations up to July 15, when the books were supposed to close: Bracadale, Outline, Goshawk, Sun Flag, Supic and Span, Lucky Puly, Worthmore, Laurano, Apprehension, Baffling, Sun Pal, Miss Star and Rialto.

With exception of Goshawk, Spic and Span, Lucky Play, Worthmore, Baffling and Miss Star, the nominations were the same for the Aqueduct mile, and included in addition: Honor, Stanwix, Princess Doreen, Rockminster, My Own, Polo Ground, Transmute and Gonfalon.

While entres are not complete for the mile and a quarter race at Latonia the following have been named in addition to those mentioned above: Enchantment, Barbary Bush, Chaoslet, In Memoriam, Befuddle, Audacious and Thorndale.

When the fields are whittled down to barrier size, we may expect to find from six to ten horses remaining in each race.

It certainly would be most inhospitable and most unfair to Epinard to cram the starting chute with animals and run the chances of our guest, who, after all, came over here for match races and not cavalry charges, getting kicked or crowded at the post, or caught in a jam of horses and prevented from putting hs best foot forward.

In fairness to the French colt, which tenders must be worked out. Epinard is a gentle animal, easily handled by trainer, with a willing disposition, and is a good starter. The colt's handlers in this country have shown none of the disposition to coodle him, such as was displayed in the case of Papyrus at Belmont last year, where conceivable precaution, and some that savored of theatricals, were taken to safeguard the Derby winner's comfort and feelings.

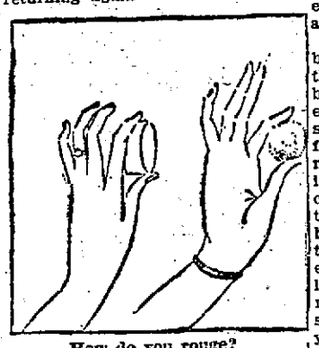
How To Rouge

DEAD white cheeks and summertime don't go together very well, and so the few for whom the white-cheeked, carmine-lipped type was becoming are returning again to the rouge box.



How do you rouge?

In New York and Paris this season the orange tones in rouges,—steadily gaining in favor over the old purplish tone that looked like the dull flush of rising anger,—are used almost exclusively by smart women. On the Rue de la Paix in Paris or Fifth Avenue in New York one sees a great deal of the new Mandarine rouge, toned down in the daytime with rachel or a tannish powder like Peaches.

How do you rouge?

The most generally accepted way of rouging is to first put on your powder very thinly, then your rouge, and then to powder over the rouge, blending it harmoniously. Always use an upward movement, as in all working on the face, shading the color off at the edges so that it will not be in a blot.

If, for instance, your cheek-bones are high and your face long, the tendency of your rouge should be in more of a horizontal shape, extending across to your ears, instead of up and down. If your face is too square it may be narrowed in effect by rouge following fairly well the shape of your cheek-bone, extending high up at the sides, in fact, high up and back of the eyes is the most fortunate place, as this makes the eyes appear more brilliant and larger. Color in towards the nose narrows the face. However, the safest rule is to ascertain where your natural color is, and then intensify it a trifle with rouge.

Since the color tends to recede with age, an older woman's rouge should be lower on her face. Her make-up, too, must be lighter and more sparingly used, for if it is too dark it will make her eyes look faded, her hair duller.

The younger woman and girl may use rouge more generously—always providing that it is thoughtfully applied,—but it must be remembered that when red and other bright warm shades form a part of your costume the amount of rouge must be decreased.

ANOTHER MAN WHO CAME "BACK HOME AND BROKE"

Robert W. Frazer has "walked home" oftener than any other actor.

Heading the cast of Palo Negri's latest starring picture, "Men," which Dimitri Buchowetki produced for Paramount, the popular young lead remembers the days when he played in stock.

"My efforts to succeed as an actor seemed doomed to fail," says Frazer. "For four years I tried to establish myself behind the footlights through the aid of traveling stock companies. In that time I was engaged dozens of times. Every company went broke, leaving me stranded and forced to walk back to my home where I was glad to resume my job in a grocery store. Once I lived for four days on a ten cent can of beans."

The picture opens a 3 days' run at the National today.

PUT ON THE BRAKES

PEARSALL, Texas, July 31.—While playing in a car in front of the Woodward home, Jane Brown, 5, stepped on the starter and the car shot across the lawn at full speed, crashing into a large tree. Jane escaped uninjured, but Katherine Woodward, also 5, who was the "passenger," sustained a severe cut on the head and a sprained ankle.

Tucker And Umps Taken To Task By Mexia Gusher Fan

Jinx Tucker has many friends throughout the T. A. circuit because of the great sport section to the Waco News-Tribune which he is editor, but many of these friends are now in disagreement with him over arguments recently coming to the front.

One fan in Mexia writes in the following vein:

"Injustice has been done us on the part of Jinx Tucker. The ball game in which our own Jeffries pitched was a great performance and should have been won by us by all means. But the trouble that we have had in our ball games is and was in the umpiring by umpires that do duty here. We have been handed deals that are out of the question. Stone did not call the game as he saw it, but called it as he wanted to. Stone started at the very beginning to beat us and he finally did.

It was not at all necessary for Jinx Tucker to run down our manager, Mr. Fowlkes, as he did what any other good man would have done in having words with Stinnie Strickland. Again, I wish to say that the Waco club managed by Tom Carson did not beat Jeffries, but Umpire Stone did, and we all think it is time to do something as far as umpiring is concerned, as we cannot beat an umpire like Stone."

The big vote cast for Dan Moody for attorney general of Texas in Saturday's election is a source of much gratification to quite a number of his close friends here. Many former students of the University of Texas know him as a student in that institution from 1911 to 1914. Mr. and Mrs. John I. McElroy also knew him at Georgetown when they resided there.

Elections all over the State, involving county and district candidates, interested quite a number of Mexia folks who had relatives in the various races. They have been watching all newspapers, eager for news as to the outcome.

Prayer meeting services were held in all local churches Wednesday night. Despite the heat of the summer large crowds are gathering for these occasions each week.

CAPTAIN NOAH A DEMOCRAT AFTER MEETING J. W. DAVIS

By DAVID SENTNER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

DARK HARBOR, Islesboro, Me., July 30.—Cautain Noah Mighill, veteran fisherman of Dark Harbor, was a dyed-in-the-Maine-woods Republican before meeting John W. Davis, Democratic Presidential candidate. Today the Captain is a dyed-in-the-Maine-woods Davis Democrat.

Captain Noah was the first native to shake hands with the nominee when he arrived from New York for a vacation at Seven Hundred Acres Island. One of Noah's ancertors, Shubael Williams, first settled on Isleboro in 1764.

"Me and Mr. Davis are much alike," said Captain Noah today. "We both smoke a pipe."

The captain stopped counting his years after he passed seventy-nine. He makes his living by fishing in the vicinity of Penobscot Bay and bemoans the fact that the coming of the Summer colony has turned the ancient profession into rum running. Captain Noah says the only way to make the country dry is to drain off the ocean. Noah doesn't run rum up the coast or down his throat. He declares liquor spoils his taste for chewing tobacco.

Captain Noah admits he knew a heap about politics. He has never left Knox County in his life, so has been able to retain his political perspective. "The only thing I'm afeared of," said the captain, "is I'll get elected a United States Senator. Then I'd lose my reputation, suer'n sea gulls have wings."

Captain Noah knew Theodore Roosevelt, the former President when he spent his last summer vacation here, at Islesboro.

"Teddy was a real rough rider," confided the captain. "I took him out fishing one day when Penobscot Bay was so rough that a dozen islands was bobbin' up and down. You could not keep a fish sittin' down in the boat after haulin' them in. But Teddy just stood on his hind legs smoking a strong black cigar and yanking the fish in like so many votes."

Captain Noah says if he can take Mr. Davis fishin' he'll tell the world whether or not he's going to win the coming election. "You can't fool the fish," said Noah; "they're nonpartisan."

Noah assured me he was a sure-fire character detective. "I can tell a New Yorker by the place he carries his money. Now Mr. Davis ain't a New Yorker—he's got a sense of humor. I got a hunch he's runn'n' for election 'cause it's good fun. Of course, he wants to win, but if he doesn't he won't get gooseflesh.

"I was surprised to learn Mr. Davis ain't got a Southern brawl, but speaks most like us Maine folks. He's got a fighting jaw, and that broad forehead of his'n shows he's got more brains than Maine's got rocks."

The captain sees two good omens in connection with the Davis vacation on Seven Hundred Acre Island. Islesboro, its next-door neighbor island, was originally named Long Island. Davis lives in Long Island, N. Y. Also, the Tarrantine Indians were the first inhabitants of Seven Hundred Acre Island. The tribe came over from the mainland whenever they wished to elect a new chieftain.

Noah is going to vote Democratic, but believes it will take a lucky break or a smartly directed campaign to put Davis over.

"Even if Mr. Davis is a 'yes' man, President Coolidge ain't a 'no' man. There's lots of things for Mr. Davis, but there ain't enough agin' President Coolidge."

I told Captain Noah of the report up here that Davis was thinking of giving up smoking to aid his voice when he begins his stumping tour.

"Mr. Davis is making a mistake," he said. "His big chance is to try for the pipe-smoking vote, and, along with the powder-puff vote that goes to the 'best lookin' Presidential candidate in history, he's got a firsehman's chance."

PARIS STYLE HINTS

By ALICE LANGELIER
International News Service Staff Correspondent.

PARIS, July 30.—Feathered fans are going to waft cool currents during the hot Summer, if appearances are not deceiving.

Of course the fashionable fan was never intended to make a breeze. That business was left for the good old palmleaf creation. A fan these days is flourished for ornamental purposes, for it makes an exquisite accessory to a Summer frock.

Daytime fans are more numerous and very decorative, although a bit more simple than the dress-up ones. The spangles variety, long forgotten, is again appearing, as well as the hand-painted fan of the style of the Louis, with dainty berger or court scenes reminiscent of a bay Summer at Versailles. There are some, too, with exquisite old engravings and some with black and white silhouettes.

Fine old lace fans are also in vogue, and the older the lace the better, for nothing is more valuable than old lace. Black Spanish lace, mounted on mother-of-pearl or amber sticks, is especially smart, with old ivory sticks, finely carved, also much in the foreground.

Feather fans are very popular, of course, with feathers running riot everywhere. They are purely decorative and very effective in the lovely bright shades. Ostrich feathers ones, soft and waving, make delightful adornment for the wearer. Peacock feathers, fragile and lacelike, offer mysterious shields which only half hide fair shoulders. Wily woman knows that her charms are increased twofold with such a fan; or with one in white peacock, with white mother-of-pearl sticks. There are many, too, in fascinating tones of blue, green and bronze.

RUSSIAN EXPLORER FINDS ANCIENT CHINESE TOMB

MOSCOW, July 30.—Remarkable archaeological discoveries have been made by Professor Koslov, noted Russian archaeologist, according to messages emanating from Urga, the capital of Mongolia.

Professor Koslov is reported to have found, about sixty miles from Urga, three ancient burial mounds, which upon investigation, were found to cover sarcophagi containing the bodies of several Chinese princes of high rank.

The mounds, it is reported, all lead into one huge wooden tomb, the walls of which were richly decorated with multi-colored embroidered silks covered with Chinese hieroglyphics. The sarcophagi were found in an inner chamber, and indications point to their having been deposited there several thousand years ago.

Further details of the discovery are being eagerly awaited by Moscow scientists, who attach to it the greatest scientific importance.

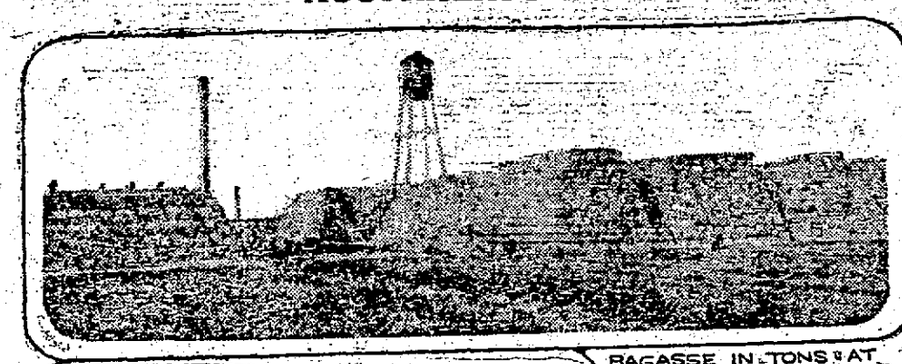
SYNTHETIC LUMBER TO SOLVE AUSTRALIA'S HOUSING PROBLEM



CUTTING CANE.

BAGASSE IN TONS AT CELOTEX FACTORY

B.G. DAHLBERG left PRESIDENT OF CELOTEX CO. and RT. HON. W.M. HUGHES FORMER PREMIER OF AUSTRALIA

CHICAGO—Synthetic lumber, an American discovery, is to solve Australia's housing problem, according to the Rt. Hon. W. M. Hughes, former premier of the Australian government who has been in the United States for four months to interest Yankee capital in industrial enterprises in the Antipodes.

While in Chicago, Mr. Hughes closed a deal with B. G. Dahlberg, president of the Celotex Company by which a $2,000,000 plant for the manufacture of lumber from bagasse, the waste fibre of sugar-cane, will be established at Bowen, in Queensland, a tropical province in north Australia where sugar-cane is grown in immense quantities.

"We grow no soft timber in Australia," said Mr. Hughes. "We have to import all our lumber for building purposes. Lumber prices are high due to heavy ocean transportation costs. Poor men are unable to build homes. Building is so expensive, rents are extremely high. The high cost of living has had a bad effect on immigration.

"Australia produces as much sugar-cane as Louisiana. There is enough crushed fibre now burned as useless to supply the country with practically all the building lumber it requires. Australia has only 6,000,000 people. It is a white man's country and owing to immigration restrictions, its population is growing slowly. Consequently its building requirements are comparatively small.

"I regard synthetic lumber as one of the greatest discoveries in the world's history. It will rank in time among the greatest benefits to mankind. It is primarily the poor man's lumber. It means homes for the people. It weighs only one-fourth as much as pine, which reduces shipping costs. It is as good an insulator as cork which insures cool homes in summer and warm homes in winter, and materially cuts down fuel costs. It is a sound-deadener, which is vital to health in this age of nerves and noises."

NO ONE LIKES TO LOOK AT A "BROK EN OUT" FACE

If people who are bothered with pimples, eczema, blotches, bumps, rash, "breaking out", etc., would just notice or ask their dealer they would find that thousands of people who once were in the same shape they are in are now free from those distressing things, and the secret of it is that they have learned that the one sure way to do it is by using the wonderful Black and White Ointment, together with Black and White Soap.

Black and White Ointment is economically priced in liberal size packages. The 50c size contains three times as much as the 25c size. All dealers have both the Ointment and the Soap.—(Adv.)
